The program is in English. No mandarin is required.

Hangzhou

Hangzhou, the capital of Zhejiang Province, has a history of more than 2000 years and ranks among the six ancient capital cities in China. Hangzhou is famous for its natural landscape and glamour of traditional culture. It is the southern terminus of the Grand Canal and has been one of the most renowned and prosperous cities in China for much of the last millennium. The city's West Lake, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, is among its best-known attraction. In September 2015, Hangzhou was awarded the 2022 Asian Games. It will be the third Chinese city to play host to the Asian Games. Hangzhou also hosted the eleventh G-20 summit in 2016.

Hangzhou is considered as the most important manufacturing base and logistics hub and major in light industry. The silk industry has a very long history; the output and the quality of the products of companies such as Wensli Group, are in the first places in China.

Hangzhou today has become the driving force of China's new economy. It is the home to the e-commerce giant Alibaba, the world's largest online B2B portal and China's largest website in terms of market value. The city becomes the center of inspiration, innovation, and the new economy entrepreneurs because of the e-commerce development and internet development.
